

STANDARD TRIPLE P

WHAT IS STANDARD TRIPLE P?

Standard Triple P provides parents with broadly focused parenting support and intervention on a one-to-one basis. The program supports parents who have concerns about their child's behavior or development across various settings (e.g. disobedience in community settings, fighting and aggression, refusing to stay in bed or eat healthy meals). Over 10 sessions, parents identify the causes of child behavior problems and set their own goals for change. They learn a range of parenting strategies to promote and develop positive behavior for their child. The practitioner's focus is on generalization-enhancement strategies to promote parental autonomy throughout the intervention process.

WHO IS IT FOR?

Parents or caregivers who benefit from this intervention are those with children up to 12 years who are concerned about their child's behavior. Usually they prefer a one-to-one intervention and they need to be available to commit to 10 weeks of regular one-hour sessions. The program is appropriate for children with moderate to severe levels of behavioral problems.

WHAT IS COVERED IN SESSIONS WITH PARENTS?

Session 1: Initial Interview

The parent is interviewed to gather comprehensive information about their child's presenting behavioral concerns, developmental history, and family circumstances. They are asked to complete further assessment in the form of questionnaires and they are taught to use monitoring forms to track a specific child behavior throughout the following week.

Session 2: Observation of family interaction and assessment feedback

The practitioner conducts an observation of child behavior and parenting. Then they provide feedback to the parent from all forms of the assessment and develop a shared understanding of the nature, severity, and probable causes of current concerns. From there, treatment is negotiated and the parent sets goals for their own and their child's behavior changes.

Session 3: Promoting children's development

The parent is presented with strategies that aim to enhance the quality of the parent-child relationship and promote a rich environment of encouragement and positive attention for the child. The parent identifies when and how these skills can be used and has the opportunity to practice.

Session 4: Managing misbehavior

This session involves introducing the parent to strategies for dealing with misbehavior, rehearsing a routine for managing non-compliance, and setting new homework tasks.

Session 5-7: Practice and feedback

These sessions assist the parent in using the behavior change strategies. The practitioner observes a brief parent-child interaction where the parent has set goals to practice using specific parenting strategies. The practitioner then has the opportunity to encourage the parent's self-evaluation and goal setting to refine the use of specific parenting strategies.

Session 8: Planned activities training

During this session, the parent identifies high-risk home and community activities (e.g. shopping trips), they learn to develop planned activities and routines to target specific behaviors, and select one of their routines to implement throughout the following week.

Session 9: Using planned activities training

During this session, the parent implements planned activities and routines to encourage independent play when busy and a structured play activity. The practitioner provides feedback and then observes the parent implement a final planned activities routine to get their child ready to go out.

Session 10: Program close

The practitioner conducts a progress review and discusses family survival tips and how to keep up the changes that have been made. Future problem solving exercises and a final assessment are completed. If necessary, referral options are discussed.
